

Alice* has no family and lives alone. She is 86 and has suffered a stroke...

'The phone call everyday from Red Cross is a wonderful service, it gives me a sense of security.'

Make a donation today

Red Cross Supporter Services Centre
Reply Paid 2957
Melbourne VIC 8060
FREECALL 1800 811 700
www.redcross.org.au

Become a blood donor
T: 13 14 96
W: www.donateblood.com.au

First Aid enquiries
T: 1300 367 428
W: www.redcross.org.au/firstaid

* Names have been changed to protect privacy. Stories are drawn from actual people that Red Cross has helped.

Thanks to Red Cross his little boy's family now has water on tap, but many other young children still don't have basic needs like clean water and sanitation.

relief

in times of crisis

Young Annie* used to go to school without breakfast. It is estimated that more than 25% of children regularly miss breakfast, with those from lower socio-economic backgrounds are six times more likely to miss breakfast than other kids.

'I love eating cereal and toast and sometimes I will eat the fruit too. It makes it easier for me to concentrate at school.'

There are more than 260 Good Start Breakfast Clubs operating in Australia, serving in excess of 800,000 meals a year.

We help human suffering around the world

As climate change increases, malaria and dengue fever are spreading and killing millions of people each year. Other climate-related health risks, like food poisoning and salmonella are set to rise with higher temperatures, poor sanitation and hygiene. Your donation will help Red Cross respond to health emergencies, provide mosquito nets, clean drinking water and education.

when care it's needed most

the power of humanity

Drought and bushfires are devastating. The emotional impact on people is profound. Red Cross is there providing practical and emotional support. We help reconnect family members who are separated during an evacuation and we offer ongoing emotional support in the months and years after the disaster has passed.

▲
There are more than 60,000 Red Cross volunteers and members in Australia and almost 100 million volunteers worldwide.

Relief in times of crisis, be it big or small. Care when it's needed most and commitment to building healthy communities. We reach people and places like no other and care for local communities in Asia Pacific and Australia. Red Cross is there for people in need, no matter who you are, no matter where you live.

►
commitment to building healthy communities